DETAILED CONVEYANCE & DESCENT

HOLDER 1

Late 18th century

William Deedes, Esquire, major landowner in Aldington, Kent

Transfer:

Purchase of the manor of Aldington. The precise year, vendor, and conveyance instrument have not been established in the sources reviewed.

Previous holder:

Unknown intermediate holder after the 1540 Crown acquisition

Holding arrangement:

sole

Shared holding:

Private ownership

Narrative / explanation:

An Ashford Borough Council heritage assessment states that William Deedes bought the manor of Aldington in the late eighteenth century. The statement establishes a direct link between William Deedes and this Aldington manor but does not identify the vendor or document the intervening descent from the Crown. No later securely sourced holder of the manorial lordship has been added.
