BIOGRAPHY

Sir Edward Zouch was a courtier, court masque participant and royal officer who became closely associated with Woking. He was appointed steward and keeper of Woking Manor in 1609 and received the Woking, Bagshot and Chobham estates in 1620. He built or developed Hoe Bridge Place and was commemorated in Old Woking Church with an achievement bearing the Zouch bezanty and ermine distinction. The Surrey heraldic record traces him through his father William and grandfather Francis to Sir John Zouch of the Harringworth descent.
